Directs Texas Birthday Balls

William L. Clayton of Houston, head of America's largest cotton firm, has been named Texas chairman of the Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday. He will intensify the fight against infantile paralysis by naming county chairmen to arrange a series of balls and other events for celebration of President Roosevelt's Birthday on Monday, January 30, 1939, in every Texas city and town. Fifty percent of all funds raised for the fight against the dread disease will be retained in the communities where the money is contributed and the remainder will be allocated to hospitals engaged in treatment of children crippled by infantile paralysis and for necessary scientific research work.

HEALTH REMARKALY GOOD THIS WEEK

As far as the Hamlin Hospital reports, health in the Hamlin community has been remarkably good this week, however, we note the following cases:

Mrs. B. B. Bishop was operated on for appendicitis at the Hamlin Hospital Friday of last week, and is recovering nicely.

Mrs. Raymond Marr of Aspermont had a minor operation Tuesday and is improving.

J. O. Faulkenberry of McCaulley who had a stroke of paralysis about two weeks ago is a patient at the hospital and is reported getting stronger.

ONE INCH RAIN REVIVES WHEAT

Is there anything better for this country than a nice rain in the winter months. And that is just what this country received last Sunday. It was general over the entire section and was more than an inch in some places not far from Hamlin.

This rain was badly needed. It had not rained much in many months and most of the fall wheat was suffering badly for moisture. Some wheat had not come up, and lots of it was about dead. This rain will help keep the fields in shape for plowing, but already there is more plowed lands in this part of the state than has been seen in many years. This was caused by the short crop of cotton and by the governmental program of soil and water conservation.

Conditions are now very flattering for a good crop year. A good start is worth much in any enterprise and especially in making a crop.

The rains Sunday were so slow that not much stock water was accumulated.

No, so far, there has been no report that Dry Callie "ran." But here is betting a ragged hole in a doughnut that not much more water was needed to make "er run."

MORE RAIN WEDNESDAY

After the above rain report was set into type another good rain fell Wednesday morning, and about three-fourths of an inch or maybe more. And it is worth a million dollars. It really looks like this good old 1939 is going to be a hummer. Let 'er rain.

YEP, DRY CALLIE "RAN"

Now, as the old saying goes, we told you so. Wednesday farmers coming in from the head waters of the creek that is named "dry" but usually flows, say that she is running quite a bit of water. Another good evidence that when Hamlin's New Lake is built, it will be catching water when most streams will be scantily dry.

BIDS WANTED ON ROAD BUILDING S. W

It does look like Hamlin community, and for that matter, several communities are seeing their dreams come true.

For twenty years, maybe, and easily 15 years Hamlin and McCaulley have yearned to have a decent road between the two towns, and our "yearning" has been equaled by Sylvester, Longworth and Sweetwater for the same thing. Now alack, and alas, our dreams and hopes are coming true, because right here in this issue of the Hamlin Herald is an advertisement for bids to start construction on the first unit on the Hamlin-Sweetwater highway. For the present lets refer to the road as Hamlin-Sweetwater highway for it has not been definitely numbered on the system yet. But here is a guess that when it is finally numbered it will be one of less than 50.

The bids wanted call for just a little over two miles from the Main street in South Hamlin directly towards McCaulley to the Fisher County line. This road is surveyed to be up to the highest standard of the federal specifications. It clips the corner of the Gulf station (where Dopson operated) and then in going out of town it took in the Tom Shelburn home (this has been moved back to a new location) and crossing the old road it cuts across the Carlton property back of the shop and residence to make a straight line paralleling the railroad.

Later surveys will take out the corners farther down the Santa Fe and come out right in the edge of McCaulley. There perhaps will be a slight bend, maybe not, and on down the railroad and under the viaduct of No. 15 and finally right down the way to intersect No. 70 just south of the viaduct, on that road, making for Sweetwater its second greatest through-state outlet.

This start of new road work means more labor for many who need work in this community. The most expensive part of the road, however,

SCHOOL BUILDING REPAIR, NEW GARAGE

For several weeks lately a roofing concern in Abilene has been busy re-roofing Hamlin's magnificent High School building. The roof is of clay tile and has been on about ten years with a guarantee, and during this time there have developed some leaks, and the new work going on is a make-good plus additional security in the way of a better roof. It is understood that the work includes more layers of felt, more tar, and a greater lap of the tile. It is a big job and will soon be finished.

GARAGE FOR BUSES

For some time, in fact ever since Hamlin school has been operating buses, citizens have groaned with pain to see expensive buses stand out and take the weather. Several years ago it was planned to build a sheet iron outfit but the idea was not in keeping with the nice building and so it was delayed. Now, a large, five-bus garage, oil, gas, machine shop station, of native stone is in progress of construction. It is located in the southwest corner of the campus, and besides being a saving to the taxpayers it will add to the appearance of the property and that part of town. It is a PWA project, remember.

P. T. A. TO MEET THURSDAY, JANUARY 19

The High School Parent-Teacher Association will have an interesting program in the auditorium at 3:45 P. M., Thursday, Jan. 19.

The leading idea on the program will be "Mental Hygiene." All are urged to come.

Hamlin's 1,000,000 Chick Factory Getting Under Way For 1939

So far nobody in Texas has called Hamlin's boast that in this city is operated Texas' Largest Hatchery. No one should ever say the largest anything "in the world" for indeed the world spreads out considerably and who knows what there is in it or on the surface of the world. So lets keep on saying "Texas' Largest Hatchery."

There is but one man and maybe just one woman responsible for Hamlin's great "chick factory," and that fellow is Curtis Martin and with him his good wife who gets about so fast till she is about to wear the young man out.

Curtis is either hatching chickens or he is planning to hatch them, so on and on it goes, fall, winter, spring and summer. What that man Martin does not know about getting chickens out of the shell and into some good farmer's poultry yard is rubbed out.

Now the purpose of this article is to tell that this big chicken factory is all steamed up and on its way to produce and deliver 1,200,000 baby chicks during the first six months of this good year 1939.

An inspection trip of the plant gives one the idea that every bit of this number of chicks can be produced. It is really a factory. It consumes chick crates, egg boxes and other materials by the car load. The factory has dozens of motors and consumes a vast amount of electrical current. It has steam for hatching and warming the various departments. It requires a big office space and a force of expert bookkeepers and stenos. It handles every kind of poultry gadgets for sale, including many of the standard medicines and feeds.

ANALYZE THE CAPACITY

Let us get down to figures. To start with there is a battery of EIGHT big units . . . each electrically controlled and steam heated; each able to hold 50,000 eggs each, and when all of the eight are running you have a possible chick production of 400,000. It takes 21 days to warm up an egg and get a downy baby chick, and can you imagine what a chirp it would be if 400,000 baby chicks would chirp all at one time. What a chirp!

40,000 WEST TEXAS HENS

Yes, sir-e-e, to produce eggs enough for this hatchery it takes 40,000 hard working hens to deliver the eggs. Figure what this means to the farm population for miles about Hamlin. Communities far removed from Hamlin participate in the extra prices for prime, selected eggs for this hatchery. It is an income worth tooting about.

To get the eggs for the hatchery means a lot of management. There must be standard equipped boxes for the customer to assemble and deliver the eggs. There is a vast system of bookkeeping and counting and candling and testing along with the system of gathering of the boxes. One must consider the advanced step of providing a flock of a certain kind of blood to get a good strong chick. This business includes many angles to produce work. Even Uncle Sam gets in on the job. He does a big postal business with Martin. Then the railroads and express comes in for what they do, and we shall include the newspapers and printing offices and the picture reels. This all means an outlay of money and do not kid yourself that everything Martin gets is net profit . . . as a mater of fact his margin is quite small.

WHAT IS DIFFERENT THIS YEAR

Go look and you will see that Martin has spread out quite a bit this season, to improve his service over last year.

There is a big house, called a chicken store. It is 36 x 48 feet and two-stories high. Mr. Martin says "what a fix would I be in if my machines turn out several thousand of baby chicks and a weather conditions comes on that makes it dangerous to keep the chicks a few days in good condition. So he has figured that out. This big house is just a great brooder building, having a daily capacity of 12,000 chicks that can enjoy their modern home even more comfortably than under a mother hen. He has twelve-1000 capacity electrical brooder, made to be a chick hotel, each six "chicken-story" high. On each "floor" is an electrical pad under which the chick may buck up to and warm his back and then when he gets thirsty or hungry all he has to do is to step out and there is the water and the feed. Just eat, drink and be warm, grow and be ready for the purchaser. Martin says his brooder system is such that the outside temperature is cool and natural so that the chicks will not get too warm and delicate.

A BABY CHICK "PULLMAN"

Think of it! A "Baby Chick Pullman" . . . that is quite "ritzzy." Getting chicks to the home of the purchaser is a problem. It must be done when the doing is to be done, regardless of weather, cold, we or hot. There are some areas that mail and express does not satisfy Martin. So to solve that problem he has gone to great expense this year to transform a great school bus into a "Baby Chick Pullman Car" . . . watch for it, it will have the greatest capacity for sleeping travel one could imagine . . . food, warmth, drinks, company and safety . . . chicks ride like kings. This "Pullman" can carry 20,000 "passengers."

PICKING OUT THE BOY CHICK FROM THE GIRL CHICK

Don't laugh! You remember way back yonder you wished it was possible to tell how many hens you might have out of a flock of baby chicks. You might figure nature would say 50-50, but this smart age has figured a way to KNOW whether you are feeding rooster chicks or hen chicks. Reports are that it took a Japanese to figure out this puzzle. But today "Chicken Sexing" is being tried in many modern hatcheries. So to keep up with demands Curtis Martin has selected a smart young man to learn this "puzzle." He has sent this young man off to take weeks of instruction and already you may go to the "brooder store" at the hatchery and buy or order so many pullets or roosters. Sexing is not perfect by any means but when a person can pick up 60 chicks in sixty seconds and get 95 per cent correct separation that is going some. So from here on you can buy boy chicks or girl chicks, depending on what you need. Yes, certainly if one buys "sexed chicks" they will and should cost more.

A NICE COMFORTABLE HOME HAS LITTLE PART

THIS IS THE MARTIN HOME "WHERE 'THEY DON'T LIVE MUCH"

To complete this chicken story, it is not out of place to show where Mr. and Mrs. Martin "don't live much." The hatchery factory is so equipped that the operators enjoy every comfort there but it is best for a person to slip away occasionally from the hum of motors and the chirp and noise, so after a lot of urging and advice of the Martin friends, they established a nice home on Jackson Avenue. They don't use it much but it is mighty fine to have such a retreat in an emergency . . .

for example, a few weeks ago Curtis while building that brooder house, reports say, he tried to skin a cat on a joist and fell about "umpteen" feet. His doctor said the fall would have killed him had he not landed on his head. Anyway Curtis got to stay in this nice little home several weeks, and really his wife thinks he became so accustomed to it that he enjoyed it.

So much for this time! But there is a lot more that could be said.

Mrs. Loy Fry who was taken to the Abilene Hospital on Tuesday after Christmas Day for appendicitis, was able to return home last Friday and she will soon be up again if she continues to improve.

Elmer Feagan has been confined to his home over two weeks with what is said to be flu. He has not been in a dangerous condition but from reports he has had a bad case and precaution was necessary.

Supt. C. G. Green attended the Conference of School Administrators, called by State Superintendent L. A. Wood, which met in Austin Thursday and Friday of last week.

DID YOU PICK YOUR WIFE OUT OF A CATALOGUE?

When a fellow can look at a girl, hold her in his arms and kiss her and talk to her, he has a better chance of getting just the kind of a wife he wants if he tries to pick one from a lot of pictures and printed descriptions.

And that's the way it is with merchandise, too. When you buy from the home merchant you see what you are getting. You can examine its quality and study its desirable features. You don't have to rely on pretty pictures and words. And you'll find, too, that he meets mail-order prices on comparable quality. —The Builder.

THE RAILROADS FACE 1939

In summarizing the experience of the railroad industry in 1938, John J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, said: "The year 1938 brings to the railroads of the United States renewed hopes for a solution of the critical financial situation which faced them in the past twelve months. At no time has there been a greater public appreciation of their problems than now or a more earnest desire to formulate some plan that will solve the desperate situation in which the rail-carriers find themselves.

"With the coming of the new year, railroad managements hope that early action will be taken by Congress and the state legislatures looking toward development of a national transportation policy which will place all agencies of transportation upon an equality in matters of regulation, taxation and subsidies; recognize railroads as a business entitled to the same chance to earn a living as any other business and enable the railroads to re-establish their credit."

There can be no possible excuse for further delay in formulating and executing such program as Mr. Pelley suggests, and which his association has long urged. A short time ago the special committee appointed by the President of the United States to consider the railroad problem and possible solutions, made its report—and it is a significant fact that this committee stressed the need for changes in rate-making procedure and in our system of transportation in general, to enable our number 1 industry to survive and go forward.

From a financial viewpoint, 1938 was one of the most disastrous years ever experienced by American railroads. After paying fixed charges, it is estimated, the class 1 lines sustained a net deficit of $125,000,000, as compared with a net income of $98,000,000 in 1937—a difference of more than $200,000,000. It is obvious that no industry can long survive this. And if the railroads fail, a blow of staggering dimensions will be dealt to all American industry and business—and the ill effects will be felt in every home in the land.—Industrial Review.

XX

The ordinary citizen views the railroad situation in a kind of unconcerned attitude. He does not realize that a community suffers a great loss when a railroad ceases to operate. And railroads will continue to cease to operate as long as other means of transportation increases. It is an economic change that railroads must adjust themselves to. The economic change is harder for the roads to meet than most people imagine. For example, "we notice where" the Postoffice Department is considering mail transportation by great trucks, either owned by the government or by individuals. That means further curtailment of railroad income. Viewed as we see it, the railroads should operate light passenger and freight equipment on their roads and be permitted to set a rate that would get the business. Let heavy and car-load freight be hauled by ponderous engines in ponderous cars but in between have constant and fast coaches running just like the highway bus and the big highway truck.

A COMPLAINT

From last week's Herald Ye Editor got a few complaints. First, it seems by some cause three or four subscribers failed to get their papers. We regret that, and it seems such will happen in spite of all we can do. Maybe our address system is at fault, maybe it lies in the postal service and one of several things could happen to cause a failure to get a piece of mail. Just remember that should you miss a copy of the Herald for other cause than because your paper is OUT, we can furnish you a copy. Even if your time is out, we shall see that you do not miss a paper. Watch your date, however.

A MAN FUSSED BECAUSE HIS WIFE DID get the Herald. It happened this way! You see the wife is looking for bargains, and wives often need shoes. One good lady faked her husband out of $7.50 because she read the Herald. It was this way. The shoes cost $4.75 a pair as a general thing but the store was offering to close out the stock for $1.00 a pair. The good wife told her husband she wanted $9.50 with which to buy the shoes, and so she "hooked" him for a net saving of $7.50. Wonder if that husband has any cause for complaint. The seven-fifty might go to buy the poor fellow something to eat, a shirt or two, or maybe something else. You see there are good grounds for people to raise a racket when they miss the Herald. It really saves a family ten, twenty, or maybe thirty times what it costs you during the year.

What is your complaint?

The Herald has a nice letter from Mrs. Lucy E. Lester of Rt. 2, Fort Worth, also enclosing a money order for the Herald for all of 1939. Mrs. Lester has some property in Hamlin and the Herald will help her keep up with everything. Thanks, Mrs. Lester.

MUNDAY PASTOR

MARRIES COUPLE FREE

Doubtless you and your readers of the Hamlin Herald will be interested in a wedding that took place in our parsonage home last Saturday night.

YARBROUGH-LARUE

When pastor there at Hamlin, I promised some of the boys a wedding free of charge any time they would find the girl and present her for the ceremony. On January 3, I received a card from C. O. LaRue Jr., announcing that he would be at our home, with his lady friend, on January 7, 11:30 P. M. Both he and Miss Yarbrough worked until 9:30 P. M. and drove from Sweetwater to Munday to see if I would make good the promise. They are happily married without charge, even though he tried to make me break my promise.

C. C. is working at Montgomery Ward and Mrs. C. O. was working at Woolworth's as Miss Gordena Yarbrough. A very fine young lady and I predict for them a very happy home and successful career through life. A pleasure indeed to unite two fine lives like these who are looking to the construction of another American home.

After a short stay at Childress and Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. LaRue Jr., will be at home in Sweetwater, Texas. Their home has been made ready and awaits their return.

We wish them much happiness and many pleasant returns of their wedding anniversary. With each free wedding there is a free meal in return. I'll collect if I have to live fifty years more to get it.

With best wishes to you and your family and our friends,
H. A. LONGINO.

SCHOOL LEADERS ARE IN AUSTIN TO PLAN

Last week end Supt. C. G. Green was in a conference with educational leaders and State Supt. L. A. Wood in Austin. This was a Pre-legislative conference to determine the viewpoints of school men from various sections of the state and to co-ordinate their efforts in getting such school acts passed as will benefit the profession of teaching and the public schools of Texas.

Mr. Green attended the State Association in Dallas last November and with the Austin conference he assembles the following items as indicative of "the educational trends in Texas." Many of them have been "aired" before, and many of them are controversial, many-sided. They include:

(1) Changes in courses of study—courses that may better fit the ordinary high school student for practical living.

(2) Safety Education—Safety in and along many lines to be stressed in the course of study.

(3) Modernized Physical Education—to give every child proper training in health maintenance and to correct physical defects.

(4) Twelve-Grade System—meaning that perhaps Texas schools should have twelve grades instead of eleven. This, like all other trends, gives plenty of ground for argument either way . . . finally all these drift down to the "people" who give the signal to "go" and pay for the ticket.

(5) Federal School Aid—One would surmise that the teachers see the federal government "aiding" on so many lines and why not include education.

(6) Radio in Modern Education—Radio has been recognized as educational and accessible to an entire school from one control system by means of the general loud-speaker system. Possibilities in this field are uncountable.

(7) Visual Education—Meaning mostly the use of the motion-speaking picture.

(8) Juvenile Crime—An effort to find some means to lessen crime in youths between the ages of 15 to 21.

(9) State Per Capita Apportionment—Texas teachers are anxious for the State Board to determine how much state tax is required to run public schools fully state paid for full six months of each year. It would seem that there will be a deficit in the apportionment for this year.

ABOUT TEACHER RETIREMENT
(From State Observer)

Next to old age pensions, the most pressing money problem before the Texas Legislature will be the financing of the Teachers Retirement System.

Ten million dollars—ten cool millions—will be required if this Legislature carries out the mandate of the voters, as expressed in a constitutional amendment, by matching the dollars put aside by Texas school teachers to prepare for their old age.

The Legislature already has established the Teachers Retirement System, and during the first year of its operation which ended August 31, 1938, the System collected $2,252,776.88 from 38,000 school teachers.

By August 31, 1941, the end of the coming biennium, the System will have collected an estimated $9,956,776.88 from approximately 40,000 teachers.

OBLIGATED

Under the constitution and laws of Texas, the Legislature is obligated to match this money.

Out of this money retirement benefits will be paid to teachers who are sixty years of age or who have been permanently disabled after 20 years of service in the teaching pro-

ATTENDED ROTAN
CLUB BANQUET

Four Hamlin men, Tom Teague, J. E. Moody, Mac Brundage and Bowen Pope, enjoyed the privilege of being guests of the Rotan Luncheon Club on Tuesday evening of this week.

The Rotan Club is functioning as a Luncheon Club and doing the work of a regular Chamber of Commerce. They are doing a dandy job of it too.

They are acting as host to all public enterprises, and looking after the progress of their good little city. In recent years Rotan has made some substantial progress. Among the helpful things they possess now are better roads, better streets, and a good small hospital. Things like that don't just happen—somebody must go after them.

Rotan is delighted over the construction of the Hamlin-Rotan highway. This road is going to fill a long needed place in the development of Fisher County, Rotan and Hamlin. The road is constructed considerably beyond the Hitson community and will soon be past the half way mark, and into the hilly country. Possibly this road will be surfaced before next fall.

The chief feature of the Tuesday night program was the address of Dr. Turner, the new president of McMurry College. He impressed each listener.

All the Hamlin men appreciated the fellowship of the Rotan bunch.

TUES. WAS NATIONAL
NATIONAL BANK DAY

The above heading is absolutely correct. Tuesday WAS national National Bank Day. It was the second day of the year when national banks hold the stockholder's meetings and generally the same day the new stockholders elect new officers.

This was true in Hamlin with the Farmers & Merchants National Bank. The new directors for the local bank are J. W. Ezell, J. B. Davenport, W. J. Bryant, W. C. Russell, and Tate May.

The report of the directors sounded good to the stockholders and the old year held for them a ten per cent dividend.

The new officers, or better say the old officers, were all re-elected, are J. W. Ezell, President; Tate May, Active Vice President; W. J. Bryant, Vice President, and W. C. Russell, Cashier.

The condition of Hamlin's bank is remarkably good and they are expecting the year 1939 to be better than that of 1938.

Although the Retirement System has been in operation since September 1, 1937, no retirement benefits can be paid to veteran teachers until the state contributes its fifty per cent of the retirement fund.

The state promised to go fifty-fifty in building up the retirement fund, and educational lobbyists will put on full steam in an effort to get the coming session of the Legislature to appropriate the needed money.

On August 31, 1938, the Retirement System had 38,052 members, and officials expect this total to increase to 40,000 before the end of the coming biennium. There are approximately 55,000 teachers in the state.

PETER SEES CHRIST'S GLORY

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 17:1-9, 14-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—We beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father.—John 1:14.

Service in the name of Christ can be nothing but an empty formality, and a disappointing experience of one's inability really to help anyone, unless it is backed by a vision of the Saviour in all His glory. To Peter, whose life we are studying, there came such an experience as he went with the Lord to the Mount of Transfiguration. We cannot duplicate that day of days in his life in any physical sense, but we may, yes we must, withdraw to that quiet place where we may spiritually see Him whose we are and whom we serve as our transcendent Lord.

I. A Vision of Glory (vv. 1-9).

1. A mountain-top experience (vv. 1-3).

Too much of the daily life and walk of Christians is in the valley. We need now and then to come up to the high places where we may be spiritually renewed. Jesus is ready to take us as He did the three disciples, "up into a high mountain apart." We may not be able to move our bodies, but our spirits may soar to sublime heights with Him. There He will reveal Himself in all His glory.

2. A mistaken attitude (v. 4).

Whether Peter was confused by the remarkable experience, or if it was but another expression of his unfortunate tendency to talk when he should be quiet, we do not know. But he is a representative of those who miss the supreme blessing of such a priceless moment by trying to tell God what should be done.

Had Peter's suggestion been accepted by our Lord there would never have been any redemption for the human race. Sin and sorrow would have reigned supreme in the earth, while he and his brethren enjoyed a season of fellowship with Moses and Elias and their Lord.

3. A divine testimony (vv. 5-7).

God spoke and scattered the confusion of men's thinking by declaring the deity of Jesus, "This is my beloved Son," and His supremacy, "Hear ye him." We live in days of theological and philosophical confusion. We struggle in vain to resolve the moral chaos which has resulted from erroneous teaching by any arguments or by the devices of men. Let us appeal to the Word of God. It is plain, powerful, "sharper than a two-edged sword."

4. A glorious result (vv. 8, 9).

"They saw no man save Jesus only."

II. A Call to Service (vv. 14-18).

Service should never precede vision. Vision is given as a preparation for service.

1. A needy soul (vv. 14, 15).

We live in a world of such desperate need that even the confirmed "all's well with the world" optimists are beginning to see that their rose-colored glasses cannot make them oblivious to its sin and sorrow. The boy was sick; his father was in despair; and these two things just about sum up the need of most of humanity.

2. Impotent Christian workers (vv. 16, 17).

The man brought his son to the place where he had a right to expect help—to the followers of Christ. But he found them without faith to help him. Little wonder then that those around them were still in perverse unbelief. We who profess to follow Christ, and especially those of us who say that we are His servants, should be ashamed of our impotent gestures toward our needy fellow men. There is power with God, power in prayer, power in devoted and faithful service to Christ. Let us claim it!

3. The omnipotent Saviour (v. 18).

Jesus spoke, and the demon departed. The absolute supremacy of our Lord appears not only on the mount of glory, but shines even more brightly in the valley of need. Words do not suffice to describe Him, and yet we must by both word and life proclaim Him to the world as its living Lord and Saviour.

4. A glorious result (v. 18).

"The child was cured from that very hour."

Here is no partial solution, "no 'hope to help you' effort to meet man's need. Jesus met the boy's full need and at that very hour. Just so we may tell the sinner that he may come to the Saviour with the full assurance that his sin will be put away, and that by faith he will become a child of God."

Seventy Years' Capacity

Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts: Because ye have not heard my words, behold, I will send and take all the families of the North, saith the Lord, and Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will bring them against this land. . . . Moreover, I will take from them the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness. . . . and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years.—Jeremiah 25: 8-11.

Curiosa Americana

Alliteration

IN 1825 when the cornerstone of the Bunker Hill monument was laid and Daniel Webster delivered his greatest commemorative oration, some unknown poet inspired perhaps by the eloquence of the "god-like Daniel," composed this classic of alliteration:

THE BUNKER HILL MONUMENT CELEBRATION

Americans arrayed and armed attend;
Beside battalions bold, bright beauties blend.
Chiefs, clergy, citizens conglomerate—
Detesting despots, daring deeds debate;
Each eye emblazoned ensigns entertain—
Flourishing from far, fan freedom's flame.
Guards greeting guards grown gray—
Guest greeting guest.
High-minded heroes, hither, homeward, haste.
Ingenuous juniors join in jubilee,
Kith kenning kin, kind knowing kindred key.
Lo, lengthened lines led Liberty liege love.
Mixed masses, marshaled, monument-ward move.
Note noble navies near—no novel notion.
Off our oppressors overawed old Ocean;
Presumptuous princes, pristine patriots paired.
Queens' quarrel questing quotas, quondam quailed.
Rebellion roused, revolting ramparts rose.
Stout spirit, smiting servile soldiers, strove.
These thrilling themes, to thousands truly told,
Usurpers' unjust usages unfold.

CITY OF HAMLIN, TEXAS

(9-31)

By: J. L. CULBERTSON, Mayor

World's Busiest Street?

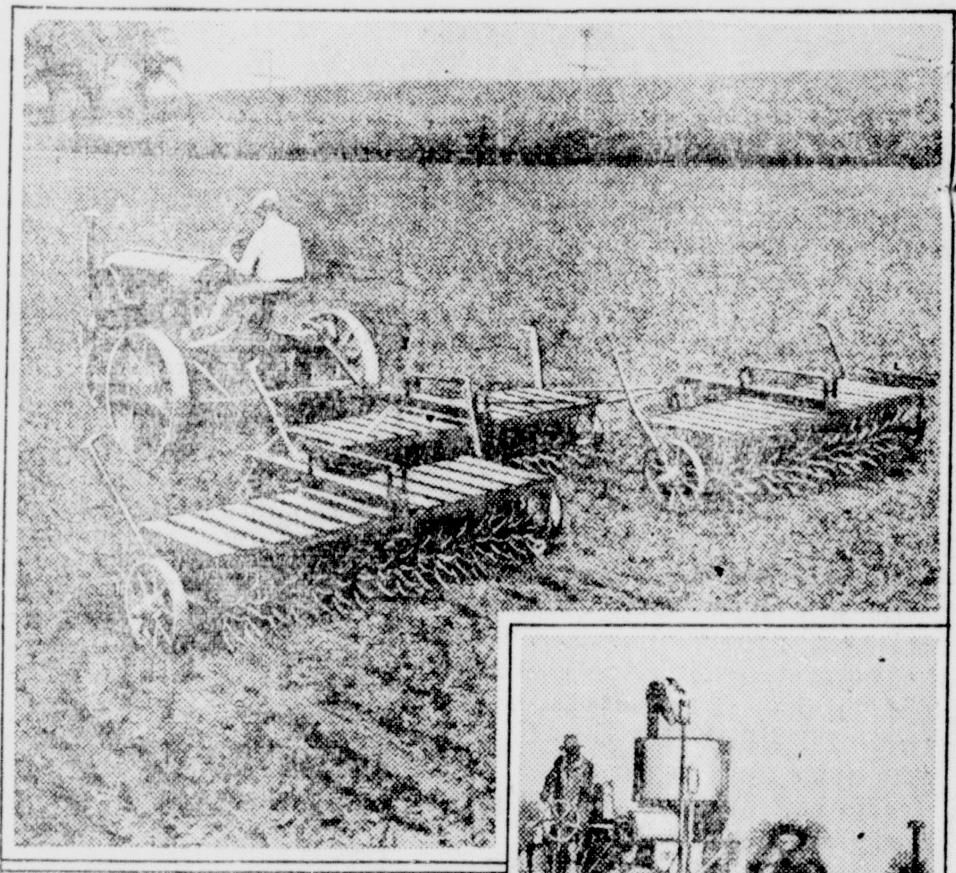

JUST LOOK at that traffic roaring by! Yes, sir, that's New York's famous Fifth Avenue, looking toward 42nd Street. And the lady in the stylish white shirtwaist and the snappy little straw skimmer had better be careful when she gets to the corner because you know how those horseless carriage drivers swing around the turns. With the national automobile show approaching, Consumers Information dug out this picture, taken in 1907, to show what a difference 30 years can make. The picture below shows Fifth Avenue as it is today. Advertising which created the demand, and research which perfected the product, are credited with changing the picture from that of 1907, when only a few thousand cars were on the country's roads, to that of today, with almost 30,000,000. The few small manufacturers of 30 years ago advertised to sell their primitive cars, which cost around $3,000 for a "medium-priced" model. They created a bigger demand than they could fill, and so bigger factories, increased employment, and constantly better automobiles resulted. And today we can buy an infinitely superior car for about one-fifth of the price, while half a million men are directly employed in the industry, compared to a few thousand at the time this picture was taken.

He's An Industrial Worker!

YOU would naturally think of the man operating the tractor as a farmer. And he is a farmer, but he's also an increasingly important figure in the industrial world, not only as a consumer but as a producer. He's engaged in hoeing up a field of soy beans which later, after passing through various factory processes, you'll be using in the form of paint and varnish, soap, linoleum and scores of other products. Consumers Information points out that 91 million pounds of soy bean oil, a comparatively new crop for American farmers, was produced in one recent year. Of this amount, 2½ million pounds went into the soap kettles, 5 million into linoleum and 13 million into paint and varnish.

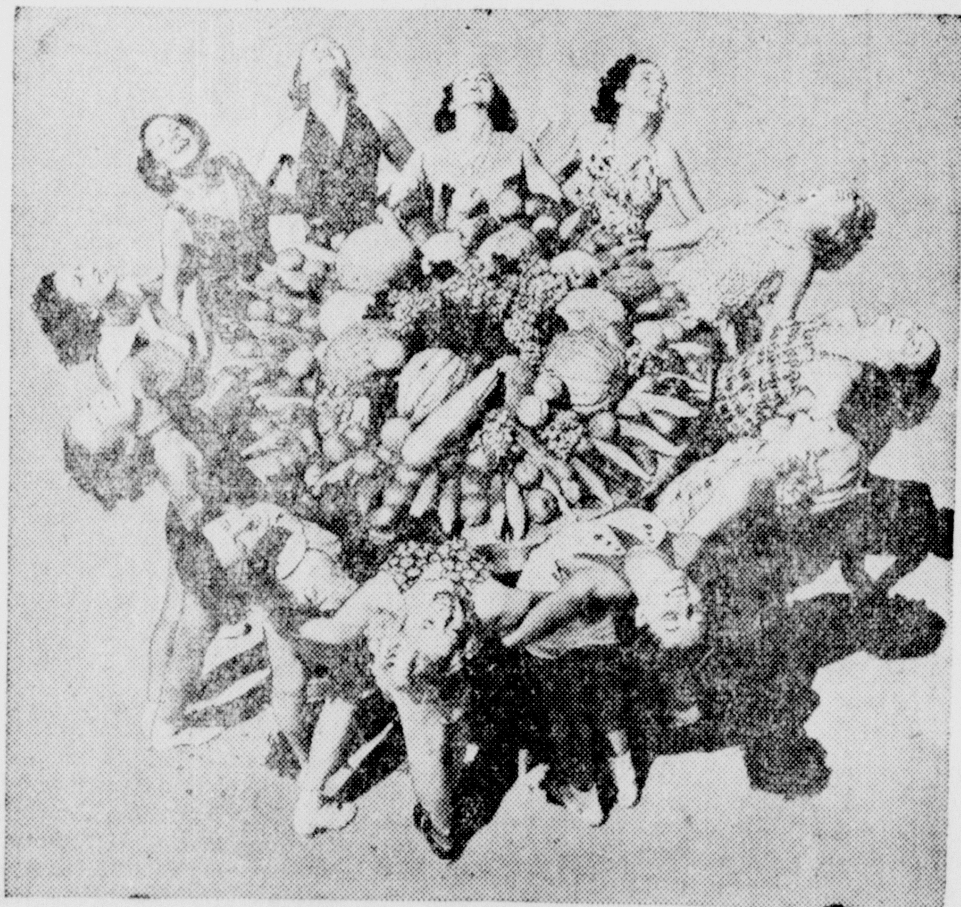

This brand new market for American farmers, who are now growing a large number of industrial as well as food products, has been developed, like many others, through the vast research programs undertaken by American industry, whose laboratories have added untold millions to the national wealth and also thousands of jobs for American workers.

SOCIETY

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church had its first meeting of the new year Monday, Jan. 8, at 3 o'clock in the church basement.

The installation of officers for the year, 1939, was in charge of the pastor, Rev. H. W. Hanks. This service was impressive and included a pledge which each member gave, which was to do her best in the Missionary work this year.

Following this, Mrs. L. H. McBride, president, presided, and read the committee reports for the year's work. Mrs. R. B. Wiar then led an interesting program on "Stewardship," in which several members took part.

Attractive yearbooks were given out in which would be found the first program to be given next Monday during a social meeting at the home of Mrs. D. F. Park, with Mrs. Wiar and Mrs. Anderson as joint hostesses.

MISS EMMA HARRIS

ENTERTAINS FOR NEWLYWEDS

Mr. and Mrs. Ovid Lawlis who were recently married, were complimented Monday evening, January 9, 1939, when Miss Emma Harris, aunt of the bride, gave them a supper party at her home.

A big bowl of fruit centered the table where places were laid for Misses Inez Howard, Betty Merle Routh, Geneva George and Misses Wilburn Fields, Leslie Shelburne, Lowell Stell and the honorees.

After supper, singing and happy conversations were enjoyed until a late hour.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER FOR MRS. OVID LAWLIS

At her home on Hope Avenue, Tuesday evening, Jan. 10, Miss Inez Howard, assisted by her mother, Mrs. John Howard, and Miss Betty Merle Routh, was hostess to a party and miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Ovid Lawlis who was Miss Doris Steed until her marriage December 31, 1938. Miss Howard and the former Miss Steed have been almost inseparable friends since early childhood. Mrs. Lawlis wore Miss Howard's necklace at her wedding and Miss Howard was in attendance and was the one who received the bride's flowers after the wedding.

At their shower, Miss Emma Harris, aunt of the honoree, presided over the pretty handmade bride's book, the cover of which was a pencil sketch of Mr. and Mrs. Lawlis, and was overlaid with tinted cellophane and tied with harmonizing ribbons, and in which were registered over thirty friends, and the number will be much higher when completed with names of the out of town people who sent gifts but could not be present.

This book will be treasured and kept, as also will be a book of favorite recipes and good advice, which was assembled by the hostess and the guests and presented to the honoree.

Among those present were the honoree's mother, Mrs. J. I. Steed, her mother-in-law, Mrs. G. M. Lawlis, from Sylvester, and her grandmother, Mrs. R. L. Harris.

The many lovely and useful gifts were presented to Mrs. Lawlis by her little sister, Marjorie Nell, and little Misses Patsy Davis and Sue McCrary who answered the door when there were many "Special Delivery" packages for "Doris." So many packages in fact that the little girls had to "find" a little wagon in which to stack as many as possible. The little wagon was beautifully decorated with pink crepe paper.

With everyone looking on, Doris immediately unwrapped and admired the lovely gifts and expressed her appreciation.

During the enjoyable evening accord music was given by Mrs. Joe McCrary. Miss McCoy and Miss Effie Los McCoy and little Mae McCrary and Patsy Davis sang several songs.

The refreshment table was laid with lace and centered with lovely flowers.

MRS. WALLACE WALTON HONORED WITH SHOWER

Mmes. Bowen Pope, W. R. Wilkerson, J. Frank Johnson and R. D. Moore were hostesses for a lovely party and miscellaneous shower, Tuesday evening to compliment Mrs. Wallace Walton, who before her marriage, January 1, was Miss Vincie Bowen.

The party was given at the home of Mrs. Pope on Jackson Avenue. Decorations placed emphasis upon a color theme of pink, white and silver. Pink carnations and sweet peas were attractively placed in the entertaining rooms and tiny silver wedding bells were given as favors.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Frank Johnson and Mrs. Pope who presented the honoree. Receiving with them was Mrs. O. D. Weatherbee of Rotan. Mrs. Wilkerson directed to the bride's book which was presided over by Misses Imogene and Ada Jane Howard. Mrs. Ernest Davis led the way to the dining room where Mrs. Moore, Misses Nettie Bowen and Doris Pope assisted guests in finding seats.

Mrs. Moore presented a program which provided the entertainment for the evening. A musical reading, "The Usual Way," was given by Mrs. Hefflin Miller with Miss Edwina Gilbert playing the accompaniment. Miss Gilbert also delighted guests with a beautiful rendition of "Un Suspira." Mrs. Johnson gave an appropriate toast to the honoree, ending with a humorous story, and asking her to come into the library where a beautiful array of gifts was on display.

A sandwich plate with individual cakes and coffee was served.

The guest list included Mmes. Dan Howard, L. B. Pribble, Buford Dean, Med Raney, Jay Fitzgerald, C. W. Gold, S. D. McMahon, Leslie Sparks, L. L. Cowan, A. E. Pardue, Homer Massey, J. C. SCHUBERT CLUB

The Schubert Club met Wednesday, Jan. 11, at three o'clock in its club room at the Methodist Church with a "Federation Day" program, which had been postponed in order that Mrs. Byron Lewis, district president, be present.

Mrs. Henry Albritton was hostess and welcomed the members.

Mrs. Gordon Bennett, president, held election of officers, which is customary at first meeting of the new year. The following were elected for year 1939-1940:

President, Mrs. L. H. McBride; Vice President, Mrs. A. A. Hackley; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Ira Clements; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Fred Carpenter; Treasurer, Mrs. Q. Martin; Parliamentarian and Critic, Mrs. Gordon Bennett; Librarian, Mrs. Joe McCrary; Reporter, Mrs. Otis Hopper; Member-at-Large, Mrs. J. E. Moody.

Following this, Mrs. Bennett presented Mrs. W. C. Russell, leader of the program, who very graciously, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Byron Lewis of Stamford, and also Mrs. McCollum of Stamford, who was a guest. Mrs. Lewis addressed the club on the subject, "Whose Federation Is This," in which she gave interesting information on music clubs, nationally as well as locally. The club felt honored to have had and felt benefitted and inspired by her presence.

Next Mrs. Russell introduced Miss Edwina Gilbert, who played "Etude in D Flat Major," by Liszt, the number she gave on program at the District Convention in Nov. at Mineral Wells, and which was the first time for it to be heard by most of the club members. It is needless to say it was well received and enjoyed. The club is proud of its director, Miss Gilbert.

A pretty pot plant was presented to Mrs. Lewis by Mrs. Bennett as a token of love and appreciation from the Schubert Club.

After being served a lovely tea-plate by the entertainment committee, the club adjourned their social period, to have a very interesting choral practice, which was the beginning of new work given out by the director.

BLUE BIRD CLUB

A very enjoyable meeting of the Blue Bird Club was held in the home of Mrs. John Ed Day, Tuesday afternoon. The occasion was the result of a club contest where the six losing members entertained the six winners. The games were intensely interesting and exciting because of some clever tricks played by the hostesses. At the conclusion of the play Mrs. Arice Jones held high score.

A delicious three course luncheon was served from tables centered with lovely red flowers.

JONES CO. WOMEN ARE SPONSORING

HOME CANNING DEMONSTRATION DIRECTED BY MISS LOIS THOMPSON, HOME ENONOMIST FOR BALL BROTHERS GLASS COMPANY

A Home Canning Demonstration will be held January 16th, 17th and 18th at 2 P. M. at the Woman's Club, Anson, Texas, under the auspice of the Jones County Club Federation.

Every woman is invited to attend whether a member or not. The canning of meat and poultry and the preparation of same into delicious dishes will be the feature of the demonstration.

Meat canning has been a common practice in Texas but the serving of canned meat in the home has always been a major problem. Miss Thompson will actually can meat on demonstration and will then give recipes that will relieve canned meat of its monotony.

A discussion will be given on Botulism Food Poisoning, Canned Foods as a Source of Vitamins, and the Necessity of Vitamins for the Growth. Health and Well-Being of a Family, a deficiency of which causes many cases of paralysis, rickets and other diseases among children which could easily be prevented by the addition of canned seasonal foods to the diet.

These and a number of other subjects relating to the food problems of every housewife will be discussed and fully explained each day.

For those who do not can meat, jelly, relishes and preserves especially adapted to this time of the year will be featured.

THE IDEAL MAN CHOSEN BY GIRLS

DENTON, Jan. 10. — Any 25-year-old young doctor about six feet tall and weighing around 180 pounds who would like a wave of immediate popularity should go immediately to the campus at Texas State College for Women, since the majority of girls there have judged such a person their ideal man for marriage. Other specifications are that he must be a college graduate, that he should have saved $1,000 before the fatal step, and that he should be making $25 a week at the very least. Lawyers, business men and engineers are runners-up in the collective TSCW preference, and 24, 26 and 23 are also considered acceptable age. The girls themselves prefer to marry at the ages of 21, 23 or 20.

About one third of the students plan to continue their professional

Lawrence Tibbett, pictured above, is a coast-to-coast commuter this winter by reason of his appearance on the big Sunday night show from Hollywood with Ronald Colman, Carole Lombard and Cary Grant, and his appearances at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City. The Tibbett tripping is believed to be unique in radio annals.

Miss Louise Hicks, of Rule, visited her sister, Mrs. J. Lonnie Gibson and family, the past week end. She returned Sunday accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Gibson.

LITTLE DAVY WINS AGAIN

Short, stocky Dave O'Brien scored again this week as 2,700 Texas girls deserted the traditional feminine preference for tall, dark and handsome men to name him their favorite football star in the Southwest Conference. Third annual vote taken by students at Texas State College for Women gave Little Davy a strong lead over his closest runner-up, Dick Todd of A. & M.

Along with the rest of the nation, the girls seem to have a weakness for passing quarterbacks, since their first football hero was Slinging Sammy Baugh, now one of the highest paid professional players. Last year Joe Rutt, All-American left guard from A. & M., was selected,

Points and Personalities

by doris pope

Yes, we did say something about the weather last week. Perhaps we had better "predict" more often, because the weather always does just the opposite to what we say.

That "loud smelling" gentleman smelled about the streets of our fair city the week following Christmas was a well-known slim and lanky Shell Company employee making use of the perfume he received anonymously. We understand that he is now offering a reward of $1.98 for information leading to the identity of the "sender." (Now, if the "sender" is an enterprising somebody, here's a chance to make some money—because counting the cost of the per-FUME and the postage, he could net $1.83).

And speaking of Christmas gifts, we call this a "doity trick"—A very attractive lady gave her well-known spouse a box of those fancy, "high-falutin'" dominoes for Christmas, and since then the poor "domino-shark" husband is always without pocket change because of his wife's powerful playing.

If there is anything concerning size or exact measurement of baby beds that you wish to know, we refer you to a certain jovial automobile dealer who learned his knowledge to the tune of five bucks (and who isn't so jovial when the subject is mentioned now.)

Are you wondering why a well-known matron who owns a pet Scottie named Mac turns a delicate pink when you merely ask, "Did you catch your dog?" Well, the lady left Mac locked up securely at home, but when she had gone several blocks to see a friend, she saw a Scottie exactly like Mac running down the street. Thinking only that Mac would be run over or poisoned or something, she jumped out of her car and started calling Mac very loudly. The Scottie perked his ears and started in the opposite direction. Being very vexed because Mac was so playful that morning, the lady "took out" after him and after chasing him up to the front steps of a house, she succeeded in catching the dog. Just then a man appeared on the porch and asked, "Lady, what do you think you're doing?" Out of breath and in a none too happy humor, the lady replied sarcastically, "Anybody could see I'm trying to catch my dog!" The man grinned, "But, lady, that Scottie belongs to the family next door." And the well-known matron, not knowing what to do next, let the Scottie go and went home abashed to find Mac locked up securely.

We hope that this issue of the Herald will get "home" safely and that not so many wives (and others) will report to us that for some reason they failed to get their paper.

UNITED EFFORT TO SELL CITRUS FRUITS

In eleven thousand stores that, 49 weeks out of the year do not handle groceries at all, a quarter of a million clerks will start this week end on a country-wide sale to market the biggest crop of citrus fruits in history. The drive will continue three weeks, tying in during its last ten days with a sales campaign in food stores, all aimed to let the consuming public get full, healthful benefit of a fruit crop in which the Rio-Grande Valley alone is harvesting more than fifteen million boxes of grapefruit, in addition to the Texas orange and lemon crop.

Many of the non-food stores will feature the nationwide campaign in window displays, counter displays and advertising.

J. D. Burk, local Safeway manager, speaking for chain store managers in Hamlin, said the second national citrus sale is designed to move the surplus crops of the four major growing states—Texas, Florida, Arizona and California. In 238 non-food stores of seventeen companies in Texas cooperating in the sale, Texas-grown fruits are being featured. Texas fruits share the sale spotlight throughout the nation.

January 24 the campaign will begin in grocery stores, two weeks after the campaign on grapefruit and oranges has started in non-food

The teams will fire on their respective ranges and then compare their scores via correspondence.

The Herald has a short little letter from Miss Bessie Rawls at Waterloo, Alabama, asking if she could get the "home town news" for another year. She backed up that wish with a dollar check and so Miss Bessie we shall do our best to tell you all about Hamlin in 1939.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Carter and three sons, Tronnie, Weldon and Buster, and C. A. Carter and wife and son, Charles, were called Tuesday to Wolfe City by the serious illness of their father, M. Carter, who is 83 years of age. They returned Friday night leaving the aged man improved somewhat.
